

Supervisors Favor Plan to Link Oakland and Alameda With Tube Under Estuary

Advocating the construction of a tube under the estuary in place of the proposed bridge, the city supervisors today voted to link Oakland and Alameda with a tube under the estuary. The plan, which would cost $1,500,000, was proposed by the city manager, today sent a letter to the supervisors asking them to appropriate $500,000 for the use of the county surveyor in investigating the cost and feasibility of the tube scheme.

The supervisors declared themselves in favor of the plan and stated that they would have such investigations made between now and July 1, as might be possible with the money at their disposal, after which the provision would be made in the budget for a larger sum, if found advisable.

PERMANENCY POINTED OUT. Hewes' letter pointed out that while the bridge would eliminate fifty per cent of the openings now required by the draw bridge, future years, through increased traffic on the estuary, will require a still greater number of openings, and that the life of the bridge would be but a temporary one, the tube would be permanent. It was also shown that the land already required for approaches to the bridge could be used for the tube.

The cost of the bridge was to have been $1,500,000, the county and the Southern Pacific company each to pay half, but it is estimated that now it will require that amount. Engineers have stated, according to the Alameda advocates, that the tube could be constructed for about $1,000,000, whereas it originally was thought it would cost $2,000,000, as it has been found that a steel casing will not be required. George Posey, deputy county surveyor, says these engineers figured on old prices and that at least 50 per cent will have to be added now.

HINDRANCE AVOIDED. The supervisors declared, however, that even if the tube costs $3,000,000 it will be a better investment than to spend $3,500,000 in constructing a bascule bridge, which would be at least a partial hindrance to navigation.

At the request of the state board of health the supervisors decided to pass at next Monday's meeting an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to leave garbage or unsightly matter of any kind on any highway, camping ground or in any stream or dry watercourse in Alameda county. Similar ordinances are to be passed by other counties.

Contracts Outlined for School Buildings

A conference regarding the letting of contracts for building schools coming between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000 was held today in the district attorney's office. Although no final decision was reached, tentative proposals regarding the form of the contracts were suggested and discussed.

Those who attended the conference with Deputy District Attorney Theodore Wittchen and O. D. Hamlin, are: Frederick Kahn, chairman of the committee, Oakland board of education; Dr. J. Loren Pease, chairman, building committee; and Chief of Construction Marston Campbell and Supervising Architect C. W. Dickie, who will take the contracts for the erection of the schools.

Buried Gold Hoard Disclosed as Mint Worker Is Nabbed

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Feb. 5.—Orville Harrington, 41, skilled worker in the Denver Mint, was arrested today by Roland K. Goddard, chief of the local branch of the federal secret service, on a charge of having robbed the Denver Mint of gold bullion valued at more than $100,000. A search of Harrington's home revealed the gold bars, buried and hidden in various parts of the premises. All of it was recovered, according to Goddard.

UPRISING AGAINST ALLIES IS FEARED

"The German people will not resist this new shame," the Lokal Anzeiger said today, protesting vigorously against the Allies' demand for delivery as specified in the peace treaty. The newspaper, in an editorial, said that the German people will rather the last remnants of their strength to resist to the utmost.

"My Boy Has Flu," Mother Tells Judge
One case that was on the police court calendar of Judge Smith for trial this morning was not heard. "Fulton Hewson," called the court clerk.

No one responded. Then Bailiff Harry Gilbert went to the door, and the name reverberated down the corridors.

This time a little woman stepped into the court room.

"My mother," Judge Smith said, "has the flu and couldn't come. My boy has the flu and couldn't come. The case was continued until February 19.

Employment Column for Tech. High Weekly
Technical High school will start an employment column next week in its weekly paper, "The Scribe News." For several years Tech has had an office where employment can be obtained by students. Miss Cora Hamlin, in charge of this work, has had an increasing demand for student service, from the women of Oakland. The object of the column is to give more publicity to this work and to aid the students desiring work to find what they desire.

Kisch's Parents to Be Told of Son's Death

COUNCIL CLOSES PART OF STREET

Because of the projected construction of a new high school building in the district, the City Council this morning ordered closed that portion of Sonoma way between Eighteenth and Twentieth avenues. Application for the closing of the street was presented to the council by Commissioner Baccus.

Application for the free use of the Municipal Auditorium on the night of February 26 for a basketball game between the club's 130-pound team and the five of the Los Angeles Athletic club, State champions, was made to the council today by the Athens Athletic club through Lynn Stanley. The application was referred to the commissioner of public works.

A petition filed by George Kaplan, 455 Sixth street, to have "Kosher" butcher shops excluded from the recent ordinance regulating the hours of operation of butcher shops, was referred by the council to Commissioner Morse.

The council this morning approved the appointment by Commissioner Baccus of Y. Cander to the position of temporary draftsman in the street department at a salary of $140 a month.

NABBED IN ACT, BURGLAR TAKES PURSE, ANYWAY

Mrs. W. G. Burslein, 433 Twenty-fifth street, reported to the police that a thief had entered her house early this morning and escaped with $45 in currency.

According to Mrs. Burslein, she stepped from the kitchen to a bedroom after she had finished washing the breakfast dishes, and saw a man standing by her bureau making a thorough search of its contents.

"For the land sake!" exclaimed Mrs. Burslein.

The burglar, who first saw Mrs. Burslein in the glass, wheeled around.

"Gee whiz, where did you come from?" said the burglar. "Well, I'll take this purse, anyway."

He snatched an alligator skin purse from the bureau and dashed past the astonished woman. The alarm was given, but the thief had disappeared. The purse contained the $45.

POOR PLAN TO LEAVE NOTE OF KEY LOCATION

Here is a story with a moral: The moral is: Do not pin a note to your front door, when you leave home for a few hours, advising other members of the family that the house is empty and the key is under the door mat.

When Mrs. T. D. Renold, 3202 Davis street, returned home last night with her daughter, they saw a man on the front porch reading a note pinned on the door. It was written by her husband to tell her that he had been called away from home. The strange man began to tinker with the lock.

When he saw Mrs. Renold approach he leaped from the porch and escaped. Mrs. Renold's husband responded to the alarm but could not find the would-be burglar.

Mexican Drama is Written by Girl

"Under Suspicion," a three-act drama, dealing with the "thrills" of an American newspaperman in Mexico, has been written by Miss Janice Clark, member of the dramatic class of the Technical High school, to be produced at a Freshman Welcome soon.

Miss Clark, who has been a student of dramatics for the last year under the supervision of Miss Helen Crandall, English instructor in the school, recently wrote and produced "The Blue Lady," a four-act play, in the school auditorium. Miss Clark lately won favorable comment for interviewing the King and Queen of Belgium and General Pershing.

There are eleven characters in the play: Mortimer Young-Dexter; Sydney Barrows, Dexter's best friend; Joe Andrews, the American renegade; Ramez, the Mexican villain; Jim Riley, a detective; Anne Bechely, assistant to Dexter; Old Maria, the Mexican inn keeper; Chenita, a Spanish dancer, and Capt. Drew, an American officer.

Drop of High Prices Seen In Wake of Low Exchange

ain and the United States, the Star declared today. While no official ban has been placed on cotton imports from America, newspapers pointed out that British manufacturers can improve their situation only by refusing to buy until the value of the pound becomes more nearly normal in the United States.

British cotton buyers are being forced automatically by the exchange slump to stop their imports from America. The Manchester Guardian, in the heart of the British cotton manufacturing area, asserted:

As a result of yesterday's sensational slump in the value of the pound sterling in New York, the movement of cotton from buying American-made goods today reached such proportions that it caused grave concern among representatives of American business houses here. British manufacturers pointed out that the movement has for its only object the relieving of the sterling exchange situation.

NORTHCLIFFE PAPER JOINS RANKS OF OBJECTORS.
One after another newspapers have joined the campaign, urging the people not to buy anything made in the United States except absolute necessities. The latest adherent to the cause was the Evening News, one of Lord Northcliffe's newspapers.

"Today's drop in exchange puts an effective and definite halt to any ideas of importing cotton under existing conditions," the Manchester Guardian said.

Manchester manufacturers of cotton goods, the newspaper asserted, even have started shipping cotton back to the United States, selling it for dollars and making more profit, owing to the decrease in exchange since they bought the cotton than they would have by manufacturing the cotton into cloth in British mills.

SELL JEWELS AND PAY DEBTS, ENGLISH ADVISED.

THIEVES HALTED IN CLEAN HAUL BY HOUSEHOLDER

Charles Antone, 5820 Foothill boulevard, came home just in time last night to prevent his entire premises from being carried away by thieves, according to his report to the police this morning.

"They were sure the biggest bunch of plain hogs I ever heard of," he told Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen this morning.

"Entering the front door, I heard a scurrying sound in the rear of the house and the back door slammed. I looked around and about everything in the house was tied in bundles or deposited in sacks, ready to be carried off."

"They must have intended to take it away in an automobile. About the only thing they missed were a half dozen revolver cartridges in a bureau drawer."

JAILED BANKER GIVES MONEY TO NEEDY FAMILY

SAN JOSE, Feb. 5.—William J. Moffitt, under arrest here on charges of defrauding several hundred New York people out of a million dollars through bogus titles to land, was the only person able to extend a helping hand when a father and mother with four little children appealed for relief at the police station. They declared that they had had nothing to eat all day and had no place to sleep.

Moffitt, who is being allowed to sit in the police office, instead of occupying a cell, promptly thrust his hand into his pocket and gave the unfortunate father a check for $50. "Enough to feed you and your family for awhile," he stated.

Will Test Closing Ordinance Validity

Three men, who were arrested last week following the passage of the municipal ordinance regulating the hours of closing for butcher shops, were hauled into Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court this morning and charged with violation of this ordinance. Roy Barber, Elmer Williams and Quon Gen, a Chinese, are accused of keeping their shops open after six o'clock.

Attorney Phillip Carey appeared for the defense, and announced that he intended to test the validity of the law. He argued that the ordinance passed by the city council was unconstitutional and asked that the case be continued in order that a writ of habeas corpus might be filed. It was put over until tomorrow.

FUND HALT TO DELAY SHIP WORK

Repair of vessels of the Pacific Fleet has met a considerable blow in the failure of Congress to appropriate $9,050,000 as a deficiency appropriation. A considerable share of this was to have come to Mare Island for needed repairs on vessels of Admiral Rodman's division but is not now available.

An all-day fight developed in the House over the measure. It was pointed out by its proponents that its passage was a necessity if the fleet were to be kept at a minimum of efficiency. It was also explained that not fewer than 14,000 men in the several naval yards would have to be laid off and work which they ought to be doing let go by the board. The vote in the House was about two to one on one item of the appropriation indicative of all.

It was stated at Mare Island today that repair work on vessels of the Pacific Fleet would have to suffer from a failure of Congress to provide means. It was believed that about half of the work allotted could be done and it is planned to select the most urgent demands and let the rest go. This one-half will be done with what money is left expended from last year's appropriation.

It is not believed that any more men will be laid off at Mare Island. The normal working force there is 10,500 but, as the failure of the deficiency appropriation was not unexpected, its effects had already been anticipated by reduction of the labor force. This totals now about 9,000 men.

For these there is steady work in prospect particularly in the building of the California and Montana and six destroyers which have been allotted the yards.

Grey Surprises President; Letter Notification Lacking

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Various intimations and reports that President Wilson might have known in advance of the contents of Viscount Grey's recent letter on the status of the peace treaty were met by administration officials with the statement that while they did not care to assume the position of denying them, there was no foundation in fact for such conclusions.

There were indications that the government was inclined to feel that the President should have been advised of Viscount Grey's expressions before they were published.

White House officials said that the President all during his illness has been receiving communications in writing and that diplomats were not prevented from intercourse with him, although it might not be a personal one.

Secretary Lansing said published reports that the American government had sent a letter of protest to the British government regarding the Grey letter were without the slightest foundation. He added that he had not even discussed the matter with White House officials.

GOVERNOR BALKS MOB IN KENTUCKY

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 5.—The conference session of Governor Edwin P. Morrow early today, in meeting and dispersing a mob of hundreds of men determined upon the lynching of Will Luckett, a returned negro soldier, who had been charged with the murder of 10-year-old Geneta Hardaman, quelled a situation which for several hours threatened to get beyond control of the authorities.

The mob, who had been rushed to the Frankfort reformatory from the Nicholasville jail to escape a mob at that point. A net was spread through the country and hundreds of men organized at Lexington and proceeded to Frankfort by automobile and interurban cars.

Governor Morrow, while attending a legislative committee meeting at 11 o'clock last night, was apprised of the coming of the mob. All guards and police available were quickly thrown about the reformatory heavily armed and special deputies were called in. The governor ordered the power shut off on the interurban lines, preventing the major portion of the mob from quickly reaching the state capital.

Governor Morrow then proceeded by automobile to a high hill overlooking the city and there awaited the mob. Early today the governor addressed the mob, telling them that should they attempt to storm the reformatory they would walk into a death trap. He assured the mob justice would be done through due process of the law and ordered the mob to disperse.

Finally in the early morning hours the mob agreed to disperse and a battle for possession of the negro was ended.

The murder, according to authorities, was the most brutal one the Hardaman girl being attacked on her way to school yesterday within sight of her home.

WHITE BROTHERS APPEAR AT BALL

One of the famous entertaining teams of the American expeditionary forces that played on tour overseas and gave numerous entertainments for the Americans, has been secured for a specialty number at the costume ball and pageant to be presented in the municipal auditorium on the night of February 12 by Oakland Post of the American Legion. D. C. Terpena, 55 years of age, is a farmer from Wheaton, Minn. He arrived at the Oakland mole and decided to walk up town. He was proceeding along the tracks admiring Oakland's water front when an engine stole up behind him and bumped him off the track.

G. W. McKinnon, 1725 First avenue, Berkeley, was passing in his machine and happened to lend assistance. The farmer was placed in the automobile and given his first sight of Oakland while on the way to the Emergency hospital. There it was found he was only suffering from a severe bruise and a contusion of the right hip. Terpena was discharged from the hospital and proceeded on his way to see Oakland.

Alleged Bilk Expert Acquired Habit in '49
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Habit formed in the days of '49 are not to be forgotten with age, if the police are right in their accusations against James W. Knowlton, alleged confidence man, under arrest for trying to bilk a Sonoma county farmer of $3000. The complainant is Albert Hawkins, who, says Knowlton, with George Peterson, also arrested, pretended to sell him Market street property which they had never owned.

Police say Knowlton has an international reputation as a "Rebel" and "thief" and that he has worked every known confidence game since the days of gold discovery. He is 30 years old and of an imposing appearance.

Liquor Owners Have Five Days to Report
Dealers in non-beverage alcoholic liquors must take out new licenses at once from the federal government according to word received today by Justice E. Wardell, collector of internal revenue. Last fall 1400 wholesale and retail druggists took out licenses in this district. Of this number a thousand have taken out the new permits, but 400 have failed to do so. Bonds ranging from $1000 to $10,000 are required.

Owners of liquor stored in private warehouses have been given until Feb. 10 to make an inventory return to the federal revenue department.

Hint of Tong War Brings Money Back

So Man Lung, 517 Webster street, and Lee Hoy Law, 724 Franklin, are again in possession of the $50 and the $5 stolen from them a week ago by Chinese bandits. There have been no arrests and no police action, and every one concerned is satisfied. The money was returned after representatives of the tong of So and Lee had conferred with officials of a third organization. It was intimated that unless the bandits were made to give up the money a gun war might break out and the third tong was given credit that the thieves were on its membership roll.

The money came back.

Good Dentistry Prevents Disease

Prevention is the most effective means of maintaining health. Scientists have found that a very large proportion of body infections, as well as chronic diseases, originate in the mouth. The unclean human mouth is the greatest breeding ground for germ life in the human system.

Prevention in order to be most effective must start with the child and become a habit.

Have your mouth examined at my office without charge or obligation to you.

Feeble Old People

Gain Strength and Vigor rapidly on Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic.

Vinol contains the very elements needed to replace weakness with strength, just as it did for this New York man. "I am 74 years of age and got into a weak, run-down condition as a result of the grippe. Our druggist suggested Vinol to build me up and I noticed an improvement soon after taking it, and it has restored my strength so I can now do a good day's work. My wife has also taken Vinol for a run-down condition with splendid results." NOTE:—Your leading druggist has for many years specially recommended Vinol because he knows there is nothing better than this famous Cod Liver and Iron Tonic to create strength and build one up. The formula of Vinol is on every label. Your money back if it fails. The Owl Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.

E. P. RIPLEY DIES AFTER OPERATIONS

The death of Edward P. Ripley, chairman of the board of directors of the Santa Fe Railway system and its former president, which occurred yesterday in Santa Barbara, brings to Eastbay men, who were holding the reins that guided this side of the bay in 1896 recollections of many meetings with the deceased railway head which took place from time to time during the reorganization proceedings of the Santa Fe road, which went into effect on January 1, 1919, when Ripley became president of the system. It was the opinion of Eastbay men that the Santa Fe should build a terminal in Oakland, and it was over this opinion, with which the Santa Fe was not in accord, that the meetings were held. He was a member of several Eastbay clubs.

DIES IN SANTA BARBARA
SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 5.—As the result of two operations performed in Chicago last September, Edward P. Ripley, chairman of the board of directors of the Santa Fe railway and former president of that road, died at his home here, 229 East Pedersona street, yesterday afternoon. Ripley, accompanied by Mrs. Ripley, arrived in Santa Barbara from Chicago December 11 for the purpose of recuperating. Ripley's illness took a serious turn a week ago at the time of death Mrs. Ripley and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Coe, were with him.

MEMBER OF CLUBS.
For several years Ripley had been a director of the Santa Barbara chamber of commerce and was a member of several Eastern clubs, as well as a member of the California club at Los Angeles and the Santa Barbara club. He was one of the best known railroad officials in the country. He entered the railroad business when he was 21 as a clerk in the freight department of the Boston office of the Pennsylvania railroad. In 1870 he became a clerk in the Boston office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and two years later he was made the New England freight and passenger agent of the company.

In 1876 he was appointed general eastern agent of the company for the territory east of Buffalo. Eleven years later the office of traffic manager was created and Ripley was appointed to fill it. He then moved to Chicago.

MANAGER OF BURLINGTON.
In 1888 he was made general manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. June 1, 1890, he resigned to become third vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. He resigned January 1, 1895, to become president of the Santa Fe system, a position he held for many years. At one

Keefe, Former Manager of Auditorium, Tells Council He Will Not Fight for Job

George Keefe, discharged manager of the Oakland Auditorium, will make no fight for reinstatement and vindication before the Civil Service Board.

Keefe's intentions were made clear this morning when a letter addressed by him to the council was read and turned over, without comment, to Commissioner F. E. Soderberg. In it the former manager said he had contemplated an appeal for a hearing but changed his mind when friends told him that it "was a compliment to have charges made against one by the Commissioner of Public Works." Keefe stated that any trouble over concessions or care of the building could have been laid to him.

CHARGES PREFERRED.
The charges made by Soderberg against Keefe, as manager of the Auditorium, in brief, were that concessions leased for large sums brought in but $7.50 to the city and that because arrangements were made for the building to control these concessions the city has lost a large sum. He also alleges that the buildings were not kept up properly and that janitor work on them was slighted while the men did private work for special parties.

Further developments in the investigation of conditions surrounding the management of the Municipal Auditorium are intimated in a statement made by Commissioner Soderberg, who is conducting the investigation with the assistance of City Attorney H. L. Hansen.

STATEMENT WITHHELD.
The results of the probe thus far have only "scratched the surface" of the facts that have been developed during the investigation, according to Soderberg, who, however, refuses to give out any further statement at this time.

"I will give the facts out when I feel like it," said the commissioner. "and I don't feel like it at this time. I will make a statement when I get ready."

Soderberg further stated that the investigation has not ended with the discharging of Manager Keefe of the Auditorium but it is to be continued along a number of new angles.

Meanwhile no move is being made by Soderberg to replace Keefe, and the management of the Auditorium is being handled out of the commission's office through his chief clerk, Henry C. Henken.

KEEFE'S STATEMENT.
Keefe's letter to the council follows: I am prompted to write this letter to you by certain propaganda against me emanating from the present Commissioner of Public Works, and particularly by his charges published in last evening's papers, as well as in the morning papers.

When I received last Saturday from the commissioner a notice of my discharge as Auditorium Manager, my first inclination was to appeal my case to the Civil Service Board, believing that I would secure vindication there, even though I did not desire to remain in the city's employ, and was contemplating leaving when last week Hansen to the commissioner when he discharged me summarily.

Since that time, however, so many citizens of this city have expressed to me the belief that it was a compliment to have charges made against me by the present Commissioner of Public Works, that I have concluded that it would be needless expense for me to try my case before the Civil Service Board.

CONSIDERED COMPLIMENT.
Unlike the commissioner, I will not have the services of the City Attorney's office, or of other city departments, to assist me in presenting my personal case, and my monthly salary of one hundred and seventy-five dollars per month as Auditorium Manager has not allowed me to accumulate enough so that I feel like spending money in a trial for the purpose of being reinstated in an office from which I would immediately resign. And this is particularly so in view of the fact that I am assured that it is a compliment to be attacked by the present Commissioner of Public Works.

I feel, however, in justice to the members of the City Council, most of whom have co-operated with me in my attempts to make the Auditorium a success, I should briefly answer the commissioner's charges.

The commissioner has made insinuations that there has been something improper in connection with my management, because the city has not received money in payment for concessions, except during the first year after the Auditorium opened. These insinuations can only be made as a result of malice or ignorance.

CONCESSIONS SOLD.
The facts in regard to the concessions are these: During the first year the City Council (not the Auditorium manager) sold the concessions to the highest bidder. But people who leased the Auditorium repeatedly complained that they paid the rent, they should have the revenue from the concessions. For this reason, the City Council (not the Auditorium manager) thereupon failed to call for bids or to sell the concessions, and these have been controlled by each lessee that has leased the building. I called attention to the situation two years ago in a written report to the then commissioner of public works, and if the present commissioner steps to acquiesce in this policy adopted by his predecessors and followed by him, it is no fault of mine.

Charges are also made that I have failed to keep the Auditorium clean. But the commissioner should realize that I am not a janitor, even though my salary has been scarcely more than would be required to obtain a good one. He must also realize that my repeated requests made of his office for a sufficient number of janitors to keep the building clean have been as repeatedly ignored. So it will be seen that responsibility for an unclean Auditorium is upon those who fail to supply janitors for that purpose. I have never been authorized by the city to employ janitors, although I have on many occasions employed janitors to clean the Auditorium and paid them out of my own pocket.

The commissioner also makes some insinuations about rates of charges to lessees. But, he knows, or should know, that no lease or contract is ever made for the use of the Auditorium that does not bear the signature of the commissioner of public works. And every contract and lease made since the present commissioner took that office has been executed by the commissioner himself.

I trust that you will see, therefore, that the charges made by the present commissioner of public works about concessions, about janitor service and about charges made to lessees are all charges made against himself. If there has been mismanagement it has been his, not mine.

CHILDREN SEEK 150,000 FORMER L. A. RESIDENTS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—What has happened to 150,000 people who used to live in Los Angeles? The aid of school children and telephone operators was enlisted today in an effort to find out. The number of persons who have turned in their names to census enumerators thus far is said to be below 550,000, while the Chamber of Commerce and public officials claim Los Angeles has a population of more than 700,000.

Cards All Taken for University Year Book

BERKELEY, Feb. 5.—With the entire supply of pledge cards for copies of the 1921 Blue and Gold disposed of, managers of the University of California year-book have announced that if a sufficient number of students desire copies of the publication, additional books will be prepared. Two days ago 2000 cards were placed on sale on the campus with the announcement that no more would be issued. The prohibitive price of the materials used in the preparation of the book is given as the reason for limiting the publication.

SHOT STIRS AUDITORIUM MULTITUDE

For just one moment last night following a rather half-hearted crack of a pistol in the Oakland Auditorium, a panic among the six thousand fight fans was near.

Frank Luscher and Charlie Rico, engaged in fistfights upon the platform, paused with gloves in the air and eyed the referee.

"What's the matter," they asked, "are they shooting at us?"

In the body of the floor the six thousand persons stood up and turned their heads toward the spot whence the sound had come. Somebody yelled, "Sit down!"

"Go on fighting," the referee shouted at the boxers. "Somebody must have dropped a light bulb."

Then everyone sat down, including two patrolmen who were close to the ring, and the incident was forgotten.

The act that was not on the program and which might have resulted in a stampede toward the doors had the audience been one not used to excitement was occasioned when

Hays Returns to Capital And Starts Committee to Work on G. O. P. Platform

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — Plans for the work of the committee of 171, which is to formulate recommendations for this year's Republican National platform, got actively under way yesterday with the return to Washington of Will H. Hays, the party's national chairman, after a two months' swing around the circuit.

The committee's immediate task as mapped out by the party chiefs is the collection of opinions on more than twenty matters of domestic concern, with probable creation of a

Thomas Munzie, a shipyard employee, took a shot, with a small cartridge at H. C. Lido, 2162 Vicksburg avenue, former shipyard worker, after an argument which concerned strikes and strike-breaking.

Lido is said to have thrust his fist under Munzie's chin and to have made a threat. There was a fist in prospect when Munzie drew the revolver and fired. Then came the craning of necks and a movement of some toward the door.

Lido was let outside by a patrolman and everybody settled back to watch the stage where Mr. Luscher and Mr. Rico whanged away at each other with the padded gloves.

The bullet, 22 calibre, scratched Lido's wrist.

number of sub-committees to deal with the various proposed planks. Foreign relations will be passed over for the present as a possible factor in the campaign, the committee waiting on the trend of the peace treaty fight to develop what part of the platform is to be devoted to that subject.

These plans have been put into concrete form in a memorandum to committee members and were outlined at a conference between Chairman Hays and more than a score of Senators and Representatives.

At the same time there was some discussion of the legislative situation, the party leaders in the Senate and House outlining what they hoped to accomplish by convention time.

The meeting, which took place in the office of Senator Lodge, majority leader of the Senate, was accompanied by a renewal of the opposition to the committee plan which developed in some quarters when it was announced several weeks ago.

Although it was said the practicality of the move was not criticized during the conference, there were some questions asked which led Senator Watson of Indiana, who has been selected to head the resolutions committee, to make a spirited defense of the project.

Meaning, it became known that two Senators, Moses of New Hampshire and McCormack of Illinois, had declined to serve on the committee, because they found themselves out of sympathy with that method of preparing platform recommendations.

As outlined, the work of the committee goes on the basis that the full membership shall be assembled at any stage of the pre-convention work. Most of its deliberations will be carried on by correspondence through its executive secretary.

Through the heads of separate groups if it is decided to create them to deal with special subjects. It is emphasized that the most the committee or its groups will do is to recommend.

Recommendations will not be binding on the committee.

Among the subjects selected as possible platform material, and on which opinions will be collected and tabulated, are business rehabilitation, tariff changes, the revision of foreign and domestic commerce, postal reforms, better labor conditions and a review of the Democratic administration.

After the conference today, Chairman Hays said, however, that there had been no attempts so far to reach definite conclusions and that the whole work of the committee still was in a formative stage.

Committee members generally declined to discuss the omission of foreign relations from the list of possible campaign issues, beyond saying that the whole subject apparently remained open until the Senate had made its record on the peace treaty.

It has been an open secret for weeks that some of the influential figures in the party, as in the Democratic party, do not want the treaty extended into the campaign and considerable pressure has been brought to bear to secure some sort of an agreement in the Senate.

In a statement tonight regarding his trip to the Pacific Coast, Hays declared he found a general sentiment everywhere in favor of Republican success in the campaign and enumerated the subjects, all of them of a domestic character, of which he found the people thinking.

STATEMENT BY HAYS
The statement follows:
"Everywhere I find the people, regardless of past party affiliations, seeking Republican success, moved with the conviction that by such success they will make certain:

"First, an honest, efficient, economical business administration of the country's affairs.

"Second, that there will be developed and executed a plan for the reduction of taxes, with the repeal of taxes which kill initiative and the spreading of the war debt over a large number of years.

"Third, that there will be developed a better relation between labor and capital, with justice to both, and with justice to the public, the third side of the triangle, which must not be forgotten.

"Fourth, that there shall be an administration of law and order everywhere in the Nation.

"Fifth, that the party will measure its steps forward by the new needs of the Nation, with its eyes always ahead, but with its feet always on solid ground."

Story Writing and Acting to Be Taught
Acting and story writing are to be taught as practical arts by the Extension Division of the University of California in courses that are to begin in Oakland next Friday.

The class in acting will convene at Hotel Oakland at 7:30, while the short story class will meet at the Y. W. C. A. building, 1515 Webster street.

The hiking club of the Extension Division will be formed Saturday afternoon in the rooms of the California Development Board, Ferry Building and the class in brass band work will hold its first meeting next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Unity Hall, Bancroft and Dana streets, Berkeley.

A FEELING OF SECURITY
You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Oakland Tribune.—Advertisement.

EXTENSION GIVEN IN WATER FIGHT

An extension of thirty days in the time within which the municipalities must file their opening brief in the review in the State Supreme Court of the recent decision of the State Railroad Commission granting a basic charge for hydrant service to the East Bay Water Company has been obtained by the city attorneys of the Eastbay cities.

Under the court ruling made when the review was granted today was the last day for the filing of the cities' brief, but it was found impossible to prepare the case within the stipulated time because of the amount of work in the office of City Attorney Hagan and an extension was applied for and granted.

The brief is being prepared by Hagan and Deputy City Attorney Leon Gray for Oakland and by stipulation the cities of Berkeley, Alameda and San Leandro will present their cases on Oakland's brief. When the document is filed the water company will be granted thirty days for the filing of its case and the cities will be given another ten days.

MAJOR CHARGES WIFE IS UNTRUE

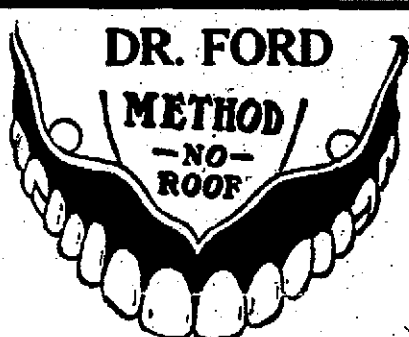

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—While John Henry Page Jr., major of infantry stationed at the Presidio, was fighting in France, his wife, Mrs. Edna Bernice Page, consorted herself with attentions from William Provost of Los Angeles, according to a divorce suit which was filed yesterday in the Superior court by Major Page. Page was attached to the 51st Infantry, 5th Division. He claims Mrs. Page is now in Los Angeles with Provost.

Alleging that Mrs. Page called him stingy and cheap in his treatment of her while he was overseas, he affirms out of his pay of $412.50 a month he sent her $250 for a year, later increasing the amount to $300. He cites an additional gift of $516.

Mrs. Page displayed no affection upon the return of her soldier husband nor interest in his exploits during the war. Daily letters between Mrs. Page and Provost and frequent visits are alleged.

Major Page declares that his wife told him she married him for support and asks in the divorce that she may be restrained from running charge accounts in his name.

The accident happened last night at East Fourteenth street and Twenty-third avenue.

for an education

Many men and women pass the threshold of life without the opportunity of a College Education.

Lack of the necessary money to pay for such training is usually the cause.

You are never too old to attend college—students of the University of California comprise men and women, young and middle age.

By starting now and every week or month putting aside your dimes, quarters or dollars, in time you will be able to go to College, and take the particular course you desire.

If you open an interest bearing account today with only $1.00 you will be surprised how small amounts deposited regularly will steadily increase this until you have the necessary funds.

CLERGYMEN TO RECEIVE MORE PAY

The high cost of living has brought about an increased minimum in the salaries of clergymen in the California Diocese of the Protestant church, according to an announcement which was made by Bishop Casady at the annual convention of the Diocese of the Pacific, which was held at the Hotel de Ville, San Francisco, yesterday afternoon. Missionaries will fare better than pastors in the new scale of remuneration. In ten out of twelve cases rectories will be furnished missionaries in addition to their salaries. Unmarried clergymen will henceforth be allowed $1200 annually, married men $1500 annually, with an additional $100 for each minor child to a maximum of $1800. Walters alone in Seattle, of the twelve trades surveyed, received less than the clergy, according to Bishop Casady's report.

Increase to missionaries in the diocese will average about $30 a month. The present salary is about $95. "No clergyman who has to think every day of unpaid bills, petty economies, hardship, lack of recreation and books," pronounced the report, "can do his work well."

SHOTGUN SQUADS HALT DISORDERS

It is the opinion of the Oakland police, as expressed by Chief J. F. Lynch today, that the organized gangs of slugs who have been terrorizing shipyard workers on their way to and from work have been effectively suppressed by the police. Four days have elapsed since an outbreak of any kind has occurred, and the crowds of strikers at the shipyard gates at quitting time have greatly diminished. No relaxation in police vigilance will be allowed, and police automobiles filled with picked and heavily armed men patrol the vicinity of the yards each night. It was pointed out by Chief Lynch that the introduction of the high powered cars and the "shotgun squads" is responsible for the sudden cessation of activity on the part of the thugs. "We have over 1000 men on the force and practically only one shipyard to watch," they have not succeeded in quelling the riots," said Chief Lynch this morning. "They were completely taken by a court injunction against any form of picketing."

"In Oakland, where a police force of less than one-third the size of that of San Francisco and the bulk of the police force connected with six shipyards to handle, the situation has been kept well in hand. I think it speaks well for the department."

SAILOR'S MANY LOVES' CHARGE WINS DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Dan Forrest Black, former lieutenant in the United States Navy, had a love in every port, according to the divorce action of his wife, Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Black, 459 Jones street, who was yesterday granted an interlocutory decree by Judge Bernard J. Flood. Black's sweetheart had a taste for fine stationery and four love letters were introduced as evidence of his roving fancy. "Your Own Babe," chose a cream-colored sheet, "By" pale green with a dark green border; "Vivian," pale blue; and "Hilda," lavender. Mrs. Black offered in evidence a letter addressed to Miss Vivian Ogden, San Diego, by her husband, in which he sent love and kisses. Her testimony was corroborated by Miss Florence Arnold, 2415 Eighteenth street. Black is said to be in Sacramento in the employ of an automobile concern.

White Goods

In careless similitude the bargain basement of the Titanic Store resuscitated from its storerooms and from spring openings long gone by, dusty garlands of cotton may blossoms, festooning them between the great white supporting pillars of the basement and intertwining them.

Over the white-goods counter and over Sunday as it were a paper-mache pergola of green latticework and more cotton-back May blossoms had sprung up, as if the great god Wotan had built it with a word. Cascades of summer linens, the apple green and the butter yellow, flowed from counters and improvised tables. Sadie Barnett's own midsize bin had blossomed into a sacrificial sale of lawn remnants, and toward the close of the day her stock lay low, depleted.

Max Melzer leaned out of his bowler and howled his voice as if it came from an inner throat that only spoke when the heart beat it.

"Little one, them remnants went like hot cakes, didn't they?"

"Hot cakes? Well, I guess. You'd have thought there was a mill-end sale on postage stamps."

"And if you don't look all tired out. If you just don't!"

The ready tears came in her voice.

"It's been awful—me away from her all day like this. But any way, I got news from her when I go home tonight about her five weeks' benefit money—old Criggs was great. He's going to send the committee to see her. Anyways that's some good news for her."

"I just can't get her out of my mind, neither. Seems like—I just can see her poor blind face all the time."

"Me, too."

"They say the girls up in the ribbons been crying all day. She was no lovebird, but they say she wasn't bad underneath."

"God knows she wasn't!"

"That's the way with some folks; they're hard on top, but everybody knows hard-shell crabs have got sweet meat on 'em."

"Nobody knows that she was a rough diamond, better than me. I got sore at her sometimes, but I know she was always there when I needed her, alright."

"Now, now, little girl, don't cry! You're all worn out."

"She—she was always there to stand by me in a pinch."

"Honest, Miss Sadie, you look just like a pretty ghost. What you need is some spring air, girlie, some spring air for a tonic. Wouldn't I just love to take you all by your little self down the river tonight on one of them new Coney boats, where we could be right quiet. Say, wouldn't it?"

"No—no."

"I wanna talk to you, Miss Sadie. Can't you guess? I wanna get you all by yourself and talk to you right in your little ear."

"Shh-h-h-h! You mustn't talk like that."

"That's the only way I have of trying to tell you how—I feel, Miss Sadie, how I feel."

"Shh-h-h-h!"

"When I call you that it means—well, you know, dearie, you know. That's why I wanna take you tonight, dearie, all by your little self and—"

"No, no, Mr. Melzer! I can't leave her alone like that. I promised her never to leave her alone in the dark if—if I could help it."

"Ain't I the duf? Sure you can't leave her. We gotta stick by her now, dearie. Ain't we? Ain't we?"

A red seepage of blood surged across his face and under his hair. Beneath his little hedge of mustache his life quivered as if at their own daring.

"We gotta stick by her, dearie."

All her senses swam, nor could she control the fluttering of her hands.

"Oh, Mr. Melzer, just let Dee Dee need is some of this spring air. Gee! wouldn't I love to take you—and her down the river tonight on one of them new Coney boats. Gee! wouldn't I? Just you and—"

"Max—oh, Max, dearie!"

WONDERFUL MARKSMANSHIP

WE'LL SAY SO.

SONGS OF FRANK L. STANTON

"Hoe Your Row!"

Country's call to high and low: "Hoe your row!"

Tune is: "Git up there, and hoe!"

"Hoe your row!"

Meet the mornin' on the way to the glad land or "Hooray! Yonder comes the Rainy Day—Hoe your row!"

That's the tune the world-winds blow:

"Hoe your row!"

Want to see the country grow? "Hoe your row!"

Till the harvest heaves in sight, Keep the furrows runnin' right; Till the toilers say: "Goodnight, Hoe your row!"

SMILES

"No sales for brass footfalls now, I s'pose?" "Oh, yes, business is good. We're putting them in cellars."

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again," said the hopeful person.

"Yes," replied the cynic; "but it's liable to have to go with a crutch for some time after."

Donald: "D'ye ken Mac fell in the river on his way home last night?" "D'ye dinna mean the say he was drowned?" Donald: "Not drowned, but badly diffused."

"If you do good work, your work will grow after you are gone."

"That's a fact. Rubens left only some 2000 pictures, but there are 100,000 of his pictures in circulation now."

"It's four years now since he left me," said the deserted wife. "I remember it just as well as yesterday—how he stood at the door, holding it open till six flies got into the house."

Minute Journeys

GIRLS PROPOSE TO MEN.

Free as are Burmese women in nearly every relation of life, they are especially free in their "right" to choose their own husbands. This is so strikingly in contrast with the condition of the women of India, China, Egypt and other eastern lands that it is amazing to the traveler who learns of their freedom for the first time.

This freedom of courtship is comparable only to our own western customs, but it goes even farther. According to the Burmese idea a girl may not only marry when and whom she desires to marry, but she may also depart when she wishes. That is, when the Burmese girl tires of her marriage she simply leaves her husband's home—this in her eyes and in the opinion of her friends, constitutes a valid divorce. She may even marry again when and whom she will.

Indeed, from the earliest moments of her life the Burmese girl is as free as the air itself. As a tiny girl she plays with her brothers about the village streets as freely as they play, and this freedom only ends to open upon still greater freedom when she comes of age. The day for the ceremony of boring her ears, which announces to all the world that she is of the age of those who may marry.

At a party as large as the wealth of her fame permits, when and whom she desires to marry, but she may also depart when she wishes. That is, when the Burmese girl tires of her marriage she simply leaves her husband's home—this in her eyes and in the opinion of her friends, constitutes a valid divorce. She may even marry again when and whom she will.

From this day she feels that every man she sees is a possible husband. True, her mother or aunt or other guardian now watches her to prevent her making any error now that she has arrived at marriageable age, but the choice of a husband is hers, and she sometimes does the wildest herself.

So frequently does she woo the husband who becomes hers that it is almost an axiom of the east that "The Burmese girl loves, marries and divorces with the freedom of the wind."

Words of the Wise

To look into the future is not a sign of weakness, but of superiority. Forethought is essentially a sign of civilization; the savage thinks only for the present, the civilized man for the future.

All the beauties of the human mind are but the mask behind which incompetency hides. Men of big capacity act naturally—affections and shams are unknown to them.

Kind words are the brightest of home flowers; they make a paradise of the humblest home.

PA AND THE BILLS

When Ma gets out the monthly bills and sets them all in front of Dad, she makes us children run away becos she knows he may get mad; An' then she smiles a bit and says: "I hope you will not fuss and fret—There's nothing here except the things I absolutely had to get!"

An' Pa he looks 'em over first. "The things you had to have!" says he; "I s'pose that we'd have died without that twenty dollar longeece."

Then he starts in to write the checks for laundry an' for light an' gas, An' never says a word 'bout them—becos they're small he lets 'em pass. But when he starts to grunt an' groan, an' stops the while his pipe he fills, We know that he is gettin' down to where Ma's hid the bigger bills.

"Just what we had to have," says he, "an' I'm supposed to pay the tolls; Nine dollars an' a half for—say, what the deuce are camioles?"

"If you should break a leg," says Pa, "an' couldn't get down town to shop, I'll bet the dry goods men would see their business take an awful drop, An' if they missed you for a week, they'd have to fire a dozen clerks, Say, couldn't we have got along without this bunch of Billie Burke's?"

But Ma just sits an' grins at him, an' never has a word to say, Becos she says Pa likes to talk about the bills he has to pay.

Beauty Talks

Imagine a woman having wavy "teeth" over two inches long. Shorter ones are even better. The deeper combs interfere with each other and "scratches" when the hair is waved over the ears.

When the waves are all set in and each comb pushed securely in place, tie over your hair a veil of good strong mesh, place the veil over the front of your hair, passing it well down over your ears, and tie it under your hair in the back.

If you have used hairpins to hold the wave the veil is placed over your head in the same way.

Do not pull the veil too tightly or you will flatten out the waves in your hair and defeat the purpose of the combs or pins. Press each wave in place after you have tied the veil and then pin it around the edges with hairpins.

Now you are ready to dry your hair. It takes a long time to dry it when it is so heavy with pins or combs. If artificial heat is not employed, if possible, let it dry in the sunlight, either out of doors or by a window. A steady heat that does not blow a draught of hot air on your hair is better than the blast of an electric dryer. Even if you must resort to hot air drying, you will find that a veil will hold your hair in place.

Many persons curl the ends of their hair while it is wet and let it dry in these curls. When such curls are combed out the hair is fluffy and wavy.

Try these methods of naturally setting your hair and you will find you can accomplish.

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know what it is composed of. CASTOR OIL DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genualoe Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

POISONS THAT IRRITATE

When the delicate machinery of the body is not working harmoniously, poisons are retained that should be expelled. These poisons accumulate in the tissues and cause irritation. Should this irritation affect joints or muscles you have rheumatism; if a nerve becomes inflamed you have neuritis.

But if the system is kept toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and no body poisons are retained, foods that once distressed you will be harmless; exposure will bring no rheumatism and neuritis and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded.

The lowering of the tone of the system which results from thin blood is easy to recognize. Weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, rings in the ears, black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness and unrefreshing sleep. The conditions Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. In this way the general health is improved, the appetite increases, and new ambition and energy are developed.

Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free leaflet, "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box.—Advertisement.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. When from the hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. It is a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By moving from the roots to the tips, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advertisement.

Labor Temple Stock Drive Is Launched by Workers' Councils

Architect's elevation of the front of the proposed Labor Temple that is planned to be erected at Eleventh and Franklin Streets by the Building Trades' Council and the Central Labor Council.

Modern Building to House Club Rooms and Auditorium Now Assured, Is Claim.

Under the joint control of the Building Trades Council, the Central Labor Council and the Metal Trades' Council of Alameda County, a new campaign has been launched to sell $200,000 worth of stock in the Oakland Labor Temple Association, which is incorporated for that amount. With the disbanding of the old board of directors and the appointing of a new board, including some of the members of the old board who displayed sincerity in the project from the start, new interest has been added to the possibility of Oakland actually obtaining a modern building in which to house its labor organizations and to provide for them club rooms, ball rooms and an auditorium, the auditorium to be used by the public as well.

The property on which the labor temple is to be constructed, as soon as sufficient stock in the association is sold, is located on Eleventh and Franklin streets directly behind the T. and D. Theater, and will cost the association $125,000, of which amount $15,000 has already been paid. The building itself will cost about $300,000, according to the estimates.

GYMNASIUM PLANNED.

In order to take care of the thousands of men who are not enjoying club privileges, the basement and part of the first floor, have been planned so as to provide this necessity. The large gymnasium will be fully equipped for indoor athletics, with a large swimming pool on the same floor. The resource from this floor in club dues would amount to $3000 monthly.

On the first floor the architect has arranged for eleven store rooms of which the first floor which would total over $1400 monthly. Already a San Francisco firm has offered to take over the first floor space comprising the eleven store rooms and has offered a rental that exceeds what which would acquire from individual renters.

The second and third floors will be divided into lodge rooms with eighteen meeting rooms and sixty-eight offices, the total from which would total $1360 monthly.

REVENUE IS PROVIDED.

On the top floor would be the women's rest rooms, offices, committee rooms, lodge rooms and auditorium, which would seat 2500 persons.

The entire revenue in rentals would total $3080 monthly. This would aggregate the sum annually of $108,080, against which would be charged expenses.

The officers of the Oakland Labor Temple Association are: Perry Burlingame, chairman; Edgar S. Hurley, vice-president and general manager; S. J. Donohoe, treasurer; William A. Spooner, secretary. On the board of directors are Parker Wilson and

UNIONS URGED TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (By The Associated Press)—Successful solution of labor problems confronting the nation depends upon study of four types of unions, corresponding to four temperaments, declared Dr. E. E. Southard, of Boston, director of the Massachusetts Psychiatric Institute at the opening session of the third annual convention of the societies of mental hygiene last night.

Application of the principles of psychiatry would help to solve the labor problems, he said, and urged that the lessons learned in the war be used in civil life.

The speaker described the four types of unions as the business type, such as the American Federation of Labor; the "uplift" type, such as the Women's Trade Union League; the revolutionary type, represented by the I. W. O., and the predatory type, "of a kind known some years ago in the Middle West."

Dr. Southard said these correspond respectively, to phlegmatic, sanguine, melancholic and choleric temperaments. He named as individuals representative of the first three in order, Samuel Gompers, Jane Addams and Nikolai Lenin. Scientific management, social welfare and social justice are too general in their scope to solve the labor problems unless these temperaments are studied, too, the speaker asserted.

EGGS PUT IN COLD STORAGE AT 50c, DROP

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Victims of the high cost of living were given cause for grateful chuckling today when market reports showed that eggs recently put in cold storage at 50 cents a dozen were being thrown on the market at prices ranging downward from 45 to 11 cents wholesale.

The slump was reported to have affected the fresh egg market, bringing prices down 8 cents since last Friday. The decrease in cold storage egg prices was explained as being due to the fact that the expected European demand for eggs did not fully develop.

TAX EXEMPTIONS FOR DEPENDENCY

In order to clear away misunderstanding as to what constitutes dependency in connection with the additional exemption granted income tax payers, Collector of Internal Revenue Justus Wardell today gave out the following statement.

For 1913 a taxpayer may be allowed a credit of $200 for each person for whom he is the chief support. But it must be remembered that he can claim this additional exemption only with respect to children seventeen years of age or younger and persons mentally defective, cripples and persons old enough to be without question physically incapacitated for self support.

If the taxpayer contributes to the support of some relative or other person who is over seventeen years of age, in fair health and still active, he cannot be allowed the additional $200 even if he is furnishing the chief support.

The very different requirements of the two exemptions ("head of a family" additional $1000; "dependent" additional $200) must not be confused. To be the "head of a family" the person whom he supports must be a close relative, must live with him, and he must be such relative's sole support. To be entitled to exemption for "dependent" the person whom he supports does not have to be a relative, but can be any child or any cripple or defective, the child or incapacitated adult may live anywhere; and it is necessary that he furnish only more than half of the support.

A person who has left home, but still sends to his mother more than half of her support with enough regularity that she may depend upon on it, can be allowed the additional $200; provided, however, that the mother has become sufficiently aged to be without doubt physically incapacitated for self support. Otherwise the amount contributed must

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste set four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

come to provide for the expense of his support in the station of life in which he is placed, the father cannot claim the exemption with respect to that child, for although the child is legally dependent upon him he is in fact financially independent.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 3½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat ticks and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, apathy, modic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for ½ ounce of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. LOS A. WOMAN GAINS 15 POUNDS

Spent Half Time in Bed From Sheer Weakness Grateful to Tanlac.

"I have gained fifteen pounds in weight since I started taking Tanlac," said Mrs. A. L. Wildrick, 222 North Alvarado street, Los Angeles, Cal., recently.

"For over a year," she went on to say, "I had been in wretched health. I had absolutely no appetite and just had to force down a few mouthfuls of food, and this would sour almost at once. I just felt miserable and would become so extremely nervous at times I didn't actually know what I was doing. I could never sleep more than two or three hours at a time, and in the mornings would get up completely exhausted. In spite of everything I could do I grew weaker rapidly and spent half my time in bed so much of sheer weakness. I had no spirit or energy, and had lost weight and strength and was so badly run down I felt like doing a thing, but just sitting down and holding my hands."

"I began to get better almost as soon as I started taking Tanlac, and as I continued taking it I continued to improve until I was able to do just splendid health. I have a fine appetite and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are in the best of condition and I can sleep all night long without ever waking up. I have regained all my lost strength and simply feel fine all the time. I think Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I have several intimate friends taking it now, and all of them say they are getting remarkable results."

TEAM HAS RECORD IN 'Y' DRIVE

Mrs. E. B. DeGolia held the campaign record yesterday when the team which she is campaigning reported a 486 of the $1089.50 pledged toward the 1920 budget of the Young Women's Christian Association. The budget to carry forward the administration building with its recreation and educational departments, the hotel, boarding home, Americanization, colored center and summer camp, calls for $60,000.

Scores of workers under the general direction of Mrs. John J. Valentine, president, have organized into teams which will completely circle the city. The captains include: Mrs. E. B. DeGolia, Mrs. Charles Alford, Mrs. Charles Rowe, Mrs. G. A. Stafford, Mrs. James Anderson, Miss Willis Burroughs, Mrs. N. A. Koser, Mrs. A. L. Whitman, Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. Lewis Byington, Miss Jessie Stringland, Miss Ethel Orr, Miss Catherine Hansen, Miss Margaret Kerr, Mrs. G. F. Brandon.

Among the women who are assisting in the campaign are: Mrs. Charles Roth, Mrs. A. T. Bailey, Mrs. Frank Levy, Mrs. Walter Corrich, Mrs. W. E. Montgomery, Mrs. Francis Smith, Mrs. Robert Starr, Mrs. C. N. Brewster, Mrs. James Thayer, Mrs. Arthur Arlett, Mrs. J. H. Oberlander, Mrs. A. H. Adams, Mrs. J. E. Bula, Mrs. M. Blackburn, Mrs. W. J. Murphy, Mrs. C. F. Rillet, Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mrs. J. R. Farrell, Mrs. George A. Cook, Mrs. F. R. Taylor, Mrs. Herbert Breese, Mrs. D. A. Williams, Mrs. Charles Thigman, Mrs. Robert Gales, Mrs. J. C. Mrs. Gladys Barnard is heading the corps of business women; Mrs. A. C. Baumgartner the other teams.

PROGRAM WILL BENEFIT WAIFS

An entertainment by the Roving Marine vaudeville acts from the local theaters and dancing will be the program furnished for the benefit of the homeless children of California tonight, at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium. The program of the Native Daughters and Native Sons of Alameda County. The entire proceeds will go to the work of providing good homes for California's homeless waifs.

Charles F. Corrigan, general chairman, said in reference to the affair: "The general committee desires to express its appreciation to all who have so generously contributed to this charitable benefit, including the newspapers, which have contributed space to advertising the dance, the Eastbay merchants who have purchased boxes of the Clorox disinfectant, the use of the auditorium, the theaters, which have donated the program and screen advertising, and the general public that has bought tickets. We know that this work is of great value to our community from the moral standpoint, and it is also of material and financial benefit to the State of California."

Indications are that there will be more than 5000 present at the ball tonight.

E. P. Garrison, chairman of the entertainment committee, said that the vaudeville program will consist in part of the following numbers:

Leo Clifford, monologist supreme.
Sergeant Thomas Maco, champion trumpeter.
Saxophone quartet.
Lariat. Composed of Hay Harkness, Philip Price, Jack Wynn and Madame De Aguiroz, in the latest songs.
Moving pictures.
Dance music furnished by one of the best jazz bands in the bay region.

Auto Theft Suspect is Held to Answer

Peter J. Couture, charged with stealing the limousine of Mrs. Helen K. Bowman, 509 Wildwood avenue, was held to answer to the Superior Court on a grand larceny charge this morning by Judge John George Samuels. Bail was fixed at $2000.

Couture was arrested by inspectors Powers and Smith in Sacramento. It is said by the police that the vehicle was stolen from the open berth in San Francisco, last spring.

William H. Morgan, also charged with grand larceny, was held to answer to the Superior Court. Bail was set at $2000. He is charged with stealing a valuable diamond ring from Mrs. Kate Scott, Hotel San Pablo, last March.

Alvarado Farmer's Estate Pays Big Tax

Diedrich Wiegman, Alvarado rancher, who died on September 18, 1918, left an estate valued at $177,873, according to an accounting filed by the inheritance tax appraiser with County Clerk George Gross today. The inheritance tax is placed at 4.5%.

The estate consists of $73,900 in promissory notes, $5900 cash, Liberty bonds, $2700, and first mortgage bonds, $2700, besides extensive lands near Alvarado. In addition, there is $44,118 cash in banks in the joint account of Wiegman and the widow, Mrs. Catherine Wiegman.

Schools Ordered Closed By Health Authorities

BERKELEY, Feb. 5.—Health Commissioner C. D. Heywood last night ordered all schools, churches, motion picture houses and other places of public gatherings closed. The measure was taken as a precaution against a further spread of the influenza epidemic. The order in respect to the schools will be effective tomorrow. Church services may be held in the open air provided the necessary precautions are taken. Reopening will be allowed as soon as the epidemic shows signs of declining. Heywood said. According to reports to the health authorities there are now nearly 700 cases of influenza in Berkeley.

There were 253 new cases of influenza reported in Berkeley yesterday and twelve deaths.

The University of California has not yet reached the closing stage because of influenza, according to Dr. Robert Legge, head of the university infirmary. "Warnings have been issued for students not to assemble in large numbers," he said, "and the freshmen reception for this week has been canceled."

Mrs. Laura Hall, in charge of the registration of nurses, has again appealed for assistance. She urges that women, practical nurses, registered with her at once, so that influenza patients may be given proper care.

SEWER IS ASKED OF CITY COUNCIL

An appeal for the construction of a sewer to serve the district bounded by Fruitvale, Boston and Nicol avenues and Hopkins street, was placed before the City Council this morning by W. A. Hammond, 3029 Champion street, who presented a complaint through Commissioner of Streets William J. Baccus against improper drainage in the district.

Opposition to spending the $5500 necessary to make the improvements was expressed by Commissioner W. H. Edwards, when the appeal was laid before the council by Commissioner Baccus.

"What's the use of spending money not provided for in the budget," said Edwards.

Commissioner Baccus then asked for consideration of the issue by a full membership of the council in view of the absence of Commissioner F. F. Morse, and the application was laid over.

Further provision for the street improvement program of Commissioner Baccus for the coming year was made by the council this morning, directions being issued to Superintendent of Streets Marion Campbell to prepare proceedings for the paving of Sixth street along the northern line of Jefferson street, for the paving of Harrison street between First and Seventh streets, and for the paving of Tenth street between Clay and Jefferson streets.

144 NEW CASES HERE

Report was received by the Health Department of 144 new cases of influenza that developed in the city yesterday, and five additional deaths. The total is the largest recorded for any day during the present epidemic.

In addition two new deaths from pneumonia were reported today, bringing the total of pneumonia deaths to 42 since the start of the allied epidemics. The total number of cases are mild.

Has Grip Left You a Bad Back?

backache, those sharp, sudden pains and that tired, worn-out feeling. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with perhaps, some annoying bladder irregularity. You owe it to yourself to get well and to stay well. Neglect may lead to gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped many Oakland people and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These Are Oakland Cases:

Meadow Street
W. J. Reeves, gardener, 3523 Meadow St., says: "Anybody is liable to have an attack of kidney trouble when a cold settles on the kidneys or when they strain their kidneys by doing too much heavy lifting. Whenever I have an attack of kidney complaint, my back has always been weak and my kidneys have acted irregularly. Half the time my back has ached so badly I could hardly bend over and a sharp twinge would catch me when I did stoop. Never yet has a short use of Doan's Kidney Pills failed to cure me of an attack and straighten me up in good shape."

Isabella Street
Mrs. Minna Kirch, 828 Isabella St., says: "I suffered with my kidneys two years ago. A constant, aggravating, bearing-down pain across the small of my back made life miserable for me. I could hardly keep going at times, because specks would shoot before my eyes and I would get dizzy. I felt anything but well when I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I am glad I took the advice and used Doan's, for they cured me of every sign of kidney trouble. I felt like a different person."

AGITATORS MUST GO: CARTWRIGHT

The menacing influence of Bolshevism to American institutions was the subject of the address yesterday by George W. Cartwright, former state senator, author of the Cartwright Anti-Trust law and Mutual Interests of Capital and Labor, to the 4000 employees of the Moore Shipbuilding Company. Cartwright spoke under the auspices of the Works Council, the representative body of the plant democracy system recently established in the Moore shipyard, pointing out the opportunity given every person in the United States if that person is willing to pay the price of success—which is the willingness to work and the wisdom to save.

Cartwright said that the time had arrived for a better understanding between capital and labor and that this could be reached through the American plan recently adopted by the shipyards and other industries in the vicinity of San Francisco bay. To accomplish this better understanding between employer and employees Cartwright insisted that the agitators must go.

Former Santa Rosa Banker Pleads Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—W. C. Grant, former assistant cashier of the defunct National Bank of Santa Rosa, pleaded guilty today before United States Circuit Judge William C. Van Fleet to twelve counts charging him with embezzlement and falsification of records in connection with the bank's failure last year. Sentence will be imposed March 1.

Grant is one of three former bank officials who have pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement and conspiracy. Frank A. Brush, cashier, now is serving a sentence of ten years.

Harold Loughery, former assistant cashier, is to be sentenced Monday.

Only one more indictment remains in connection with the affairs of the bank. Grant and Fernando Samozza are charged jointly with conspiring to use the bank's funds in a commercial venture which did not prove successful.

BURGLARS TAKE FURNITURE AND ALL FIXTURES

COMPTON, Feb. 5.—The Chinese cook at the Compton ranch, near here, paddled sleepily downstairs to his kitchen this morning at dawn, to start breakfast. Then he emitted a weird Chinese ejaculation and scuttled back up stairs to call his employers. He explained the fact that when he tried to turn on the electric light the fixture was gone. So he groped his way to the familiar sink, and that was gone; then he tried the stove, and that was gone.

Investigation showed that burglars with a taste for thoroughness had stolen everything in the lower part of the house, while its inmates slumbered above. The furniture, electric light fixtures, bath tub and other plumbing, and built-in fixtures with wearing apparel, were all gone. Automobile truck tracks were discovered. The sheriff sent men to follow the tracks.

Is "Flu" Contagious? Board Will Decide

Whether influenza is contagious is the question which the State Accident Commission will be called upon to decide in a claim for compensation made by the widow of Clarence Erwin, Alameda policeman who died last Saturday.

The claim for three times the amount of Erwin's annual salary is being presented to the Accident Commission on behalf of the widow by L. B. Winmann. The allegations are that Erwin first contracted a cold while on duty at the Alameda and later contracted influenza when sent to the home of a family in which there was a case of the disease. The state compensation act holds that compensation can be collected for injuries or illness contracted from a contagious disease while in the performance of duty.

Key Route Burglars Get Tickets, Money

Burglars broke into the station of the Oakland-San Francisco Terminal Railway Company at Fortieth and Piedmont streets last night and rifled the strong box of $35 in silver and a large number of commutation books. Entrance was effected by forcing a window.

JUDGE ASSAILS LEGAL DELAYS

"There is too much procrastination by attorneys in the handling of legal cases. There is too much good fellowship among attorneys and too many continuances to suit the convenience of counsel, who seem to forget their first duty is to the interests of their clients."

Presiding Judge T. W. Harris delivered this arraignment of members of the legal profession this morning following the declaration of Attorney H. C. McKee that he had been pushed around so fast since he had filed an attachment for the Premier Antioch Oil Company against the Atlas Development Company that he was dizzy from the avalanche of answers, notices and stipulations.

Judge Jesse Dunn for the defense said his clients owned $15,000 worth of property which had been tied up on an attachment to secure a claim of only $800 and that on this account he had hurried his answer and had secured an order setting the case for trial today. Judge Harris agreed that with so much property tied up the defendants had a right to a speedy hearing and granted only one day of delay, continuing the trial until tomorrow morning.

The oil company's complaint alleged that the defendants, who had helped to finance an oil proposition had agreed to pay $800 more, for which they were to receive a two-fifths interest in the venture. The defendants claim that on this account not compel the investment of $800 more, but merely permitted it, being an option which never was exercised.

Pershing Family Tilt Aired; Smoke Cause

Smoke of cigarettes instead of the smoke of battle disrupted the Pershing family, according to allegations made in the Superior Court today. The family was not that of General Pershing, however. The trouble is between Alice R. Pershing and Orton L. Pershing. The latter charges that his wife insisted on smoking cigarettes before strangers against his wishes, called him names and associated with other men until late hours. These allegations were made by the husband during the hearing of his divorce suit before Judge A. F. St. Sure which began this afternoon.

THERE'S surely some good reason for that lame, aching back. Likely it's your kidneys. Your kidneys need help occasionally just as you bowels need help. And it's mighty poor policy to neglect the slightest kidney weakness. A cold, chill or strain oftentimes congests the kidneys and slows them up. Poisons accumulate in the system and many mysterious aches and pains result. That may be the reason for the dull, nagging backache, those sharp, sudden pains and that tired, worn-out feeling. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with perhaps, some annoying bladder irregularity. You owe it to yourself to get well and to stay well. Neglect may lead to gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped many Oakland people and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Eighteenth Street
Mrs. Emma E. Thayer, 526 Eighteenth St., says: "While living in Massachusetts, kidney trouble made my life miserable. There were marked symptoms of kidney weakness and I shall never forget those terrible backaches. I could hardly move, my back was so lame. Different kidney remedies failed to help me and it was fortunate for me that I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Right from the start, Doan's helped me and it only took about six boxes to put an end to all the misery."

San Pablo Avenue
James B. Wrench, tailor, 5637 San Pablo Ave., says: "The pains in my back between my shoulders had bothered me for a long time and caused me so much discomfort I could hardly sit still or do anything. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they greatly benefited me. I no longer suffered from the pain in my back and the pains in my head left too."

Henry Street
Mrs. H. E. Wamsley, 529 Henry St., says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and brought on an attack of kidney trouble. When I stooped to put on my shoes a sharp pain often caught me in the small of my back and I could scarcely straighten. I had a tired, languid feeling and didn't have much strength. My feet swelled badly and my kidneys showed other signs of weakness. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the Owl Drug Co. and four boxes relieved me. I felt like a different woman after taking Doan's."

NO package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple leaf trade-mark and the signature—'Jas. Doan.'

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of palm trees against a bright sky. The image is characterized by stark black silhouettes of the palm fronds and trunks against a bright, almost white background. The composition is vertical, with several palm trees of varying heights and positions. The lighting is very bright, creating a loss of mid-tones and resulting in a graphic, almost abstract quality. The fronds are detailed in their fan-like structure, while the trunks are simple vertical lines. The overall effect is one of a tropical scene captured in a dramatic, high-contrast style.

ALAMEDANS FELICITATED BY DANIELS

ALAMEDA, Feb. 5.—Telegrams from Secretary Joseph Daniels acknowledging receipt of the news of Alameda's naval base election, were received yesterday afternoon by Mayor Frank Otis and President C. Adams of the Chamber of Commerce. The messages followed telegraphic advices forwarded to the secretary of the navy last Saturday night when Alameda's almost unanimous vote on the free naval base site had been counted. That the secretary was keenly interested in the outcome of the election became known in advance when Managing Director Joseph E. Caine of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce telegraphed from Washington last Friday that the secretary wished to be advised as soon as possible of the outcome of the election. Daniels wires that the Alameda base is indeed heartening and cheers us. It is our desire to have a great naval base in San Francisco harbor, and we hope money will be appropriated for this purpose.

"Major Frank Otis, Alameda, Cal., thanks for your telegram, and hoping Congress will vote the money so we may have in San Francisco harbor a great naval base. The splendid spirit shown by your people heartens and cheers us."

Hope that a $10,000,000 appropriation will be obtained at this session of congress for a naval base on San Francisco bay, has been strengthened by the receipt of a telegram this morning by Walter D. Cole, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, from Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy.

Secretary Daniels' telegram, which was in reply to one sent him by Cole, conveying the information of the success of the naval base election in Alameda, said: "The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated on the part it played in the transfer to the government of lands at Alameda for a naval base site. It is hoped that sufficient money will be appropriated by congress so that we may have a great naval base on San Francisco bay."

The secretary's message, coming in connection with private advices from Washington, produced a distinct air of optimism around the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Congressional hearings on the initial appropriation of $10,000,000 for the naval base are scheduled to begin shortly. Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, is in Washington as a representative of San Francisco bay interests.

Designing Men Find Easy Prey In Smart Women, Pearl Sans Says

MRS. PEARL SANS, who has filed suit against Oakland man for $10,000, alleging breach of promise.

Plaintiff in Big $10,000 Suit Against Shipbuilders Tells Experience.

Women who possess the instinct for business and the ability to make money fall victims more readily to the wiles of Cupid and the machinations of designing males than do their less fortunate sisters.

This belief, expressed this morning by Mrs. Pearl Sans, who yesterday filed suit for $10,000 against Joseph F. Riddle, Oakland shipyard engineer, had been impressed upon her many times by friends, but did not become fixed until proved by experience. She says that Riddle persuaded her to sell out her prosperous beauty parlor and that, believing she was to marry him, she gave many presents to Riddle and to his two sons.

"My friends always said that because I was right on the job and a progressive woman I would fall with a thump," continued the woman who says she was lured, "and it looks as if they were right."

COURTSHIP RECOUNTED

Mrs. Sans, who lives in an apartment at 520 Jones street, San Francisco, spoke frankly of the alleged courtship of Riddle.

"I was so positive of Mr. Riddle's intentions and of his ability to live up to them that I already had purchased my wedding presents. In fact, I still have them with me," she added.

"I met Mr. Riddle about three months ago and it was only a short time later that he induced me to sell my prosperous little business and prepare to become his bride.

"He was very insistent about me disposing of my beauty shop and one day when I told him I had not yet sold it he himself wrote the advertisement and put it in a paper. I have possession of the ad and a copy of the newspaper in which it appeared.

"I am not prepared to say just how much I spent on Mr. Riddle and his 14 and 15-year-old sons. Whatever I expended must be added to the income I have lost since going out of business—and it amounts to a considerable sum.

"Naturally I am humiliated by the whole situation, but I see consolation in the fact that my friends felt for Mr. Riddle just as hard as I; they never questioned his motives or intentions for one minute.

"If I had known he still was married this never would have happened. Do I look to be the variety of simp that would become knowingly entangled with a married man?"

Riddle, who is employed at the Moore yards, denies that he deceived Mrs. Sans. "I told her that I had a divorce pending," he said.

THREE DIED IN PIEDMONT

PIEDMONT, Feb. 5.—Eighteen cases of influenza have been reported to Health Officer T. B. Mouser in the past month. Two new cases were reported to the health office yesterday. So far there have been three deaths from this cause here.

MEDAL AWARD TO EXPLOSIVE CHIEF SCORED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Secretary Baker awarded a Distinguished Service medal to D. C. Jackling of San Francisco after the board of awards had ruled that such an award could not be made legally. Colonel Thomas M. Spaulding, a member of the board, today told a House investigating committee, Jackling was granted contracts for construction of the government nitrate plant at Nitro, W. Va., and sublet the contract. Colonel Spaulding said. He was not connected with the military forces.

DENIES GETTING CONTRACT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—No contract was ever granted me by the War Department," said D. C. Jackling here today, commenting on statements before a House investigating committee attributed to Colonel Thomas M. Spaulding, member of the board that awarded him medals.

"I was awarded a Distinguished Service medal last October," Jackling said, "after two years' work for the War Department without compensation."

Prospects of a bitter controversy over the assignment to the vacant position of acting captain in the Police Department developed this morning, following the posting of an eligible list for the position by the Civil Service Board with the name of Inspector Bodie Wallman at the head of the list.

Lieutenant William F. Woods, who has been filling the position of acting captain created by the elevation of Captain J. F. Lynch to the position of chief of police, announced this morning that he has hired an attorney and will contest the contested appointment of Wallman to the vacancy.

Developments in the case today indicate that a long legal battle may ensue for the position, and that the issue may be taken to the courts.

According to Lieutenant Woods, who stood second on the eligible list posted yesterday, he is entitled to the position under the city charter, and is already holding the position under assignment by Chief of Police Lynch.

QUOTES CITY CHARTER

Woods claims that the charter was originally silent on the question of filling temporary vacancies, and that the assignment shall receive the pay of the higher rank and that in the case of one vacancy a name shall be selected from among the first names on the list.

Lieutenant Woods calls attention to the fact that he fills the requirements of the provision of the charter, being from the next lower grade and second on the eligible list. Inspector Wallman, Woods declares, does not fill the requirement of being in the next lower grade.

MORSE NAMES WALLMAN

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse last night announced that he would appoint Wallman to the vacancy on his list. Wallman to his office after recovering from influenza, but it developed today that the assignment is not in the hands of the commissioner, but in the power of the chief of police, with the approval of the commissioner.

This contention was made by Woods and was verified by Secretary Frank C. Colbourn of the Civil Service Board, who declared that the point is in dispute in the city charter provisions covering the issue.

The third man on the eligible list is Inspector James Drew. The entire list with the standing of the five who took the examination was as follows: Inspector Bodie Wallman, 85; Acting Captain William F. Woods, 82; Inspector James Drew, 81.3; Lieutenant Bert Curtis, 77.4; Inspector Lou F. Agnew, 75.1.

ONE GUILTY IN ROW AT SHIPYARDS

Three of the alleged sluggers charged with having attacked shipyard workers, appeared in the Oakland police court this morning. Clinton Gordon, a striker, was taken before the court of Police Judge George Samuels on a battery charge brought against him by Harry E. Snow, 1663 Ninth street. He was found guilty by Judge Samuels, who deferred sentence until tomorrow. Gordon is now in jail.

Testimony showed that Gordon had attacked Snow on the night of January 20 as Snow was going home from work at the yards of the Union Construction company. The attack occurred on Willow street, between Tenth and Eleventh. Snow succeeded in holding his assailant until policemen arrived.

"I'll teach you to work in shipyards," he is alleged to have said to Snow as he slugged him.

Frank Bird, who was arrested several days ago and faced two separate charges of battery in court this morning, was dismissed owing to the fact that the men whom he attacked refused to prosecute. Requests for dismissal were filed by the men beaten.

In the case of Simeon Adiego, a shipyard worker who is alleged to have been attacked by Bird, it was virtually admitted in court that the failure of Adiego to prosecute was brought about through intimidation and fear.

"I maintain that this is un-American; if this man has signed the request for dismissal because he has been approached by these lawbreakers, he is certainly not a good citizen," said Prosecuting Attorney William J. Hennessy.

The man refused to stir from his position and insisted that he would not prosecute the case.

T. D. Humphreys, who is also said to have been attacked by Bird as he was going home from the shipyards, told the court that he would not prosecute.

Paul Morrill, who is the police allege, active in slugging shipyard workers, appeared in the police court of Judge Morrill Smith on a charge of disturbing the peace. The case will appear in court again tomorrow, when a battery warrant will be served on Morrill, and his bail raised from $25 to $250. The complaint was sworn to by P. J. Richards, a shipyard employee, who alleges that he was manhandled by Morrill.

Forces Night Work by Hens; Neighbors Protest Scheme

BERKELEY, Feb. 5.—H. A. Van Wynam, 1141 Spruce street, believes he has the secret for making his hens beat the high cost of living, but neighbors object to the methods he is using, according to a complaint which reached police station this morning.

Van Wynam has 200 hens cooped electrically lighted and kept the bright lights going at night in camouflage sunshine effect. As a further means of putting one over on his neighbors, he allows the coops out at 11 o'clock each night to give them the impression that all the world is out and stirring and that it is time for them to do likewise.

It is to this latter feature that the neighbors object. They claim that Van Wynam's methods may accomplish wonders as far as cooing eggs from his hens are concerned, but that they also drive sleep away from their places of abode.

Patrolman Harry Hoar, member of the Berkeley force, is acting as mediator in the dispute. It is believed that an agreement will be declared although no settlement has been reached as yet.

FARM LOANS ARE HELD UP FOR DECISION

BERKELEY, Feb. 5.—Business at the Berkeley Federal Land Bank slowed down today as a result of telegraphic advices from Washington insuring the curtailment of all loans until a decision is handed down by the supreme court on the constitutionality of the farm loan act.

According to President W. H. Joyce of the Berkeley bank, the order means that borrowers seeking money from the bank will be forced to wait a month until they can secure the desired funds.

"As the lower court has ratified the constitutionality of the farm loan act, it is not likely that the supreme court will reverse the decision," declared Joyce today. "A decision in the matter was expected the first of this month, but the vacation taken by the supreme court has postponed it until next month. Appeal to the supreme court over the lower court's decision at Kansas City is merely the fight of old rancorage concerns to protect their business."

According to President Joyce, all loans now under way will be completed, but applications for new loans will be refused under the Washington order.

SOLDIER UPHELD IN DIVORCE SUIT

"No man who has gone to war can be accused of deserting his wife during that period. You cannot get a decree of divorce on that ground in this court, unless you show there was a year of desertion after his discharge."

This was the declaration of Superior Judge T. W. Harris to Attorney Louis P. Dunkley of San Francisco today in connection with the divorce action of pretty Mrs. Helen de Vecchio against Walter de Vecchio.

"But your honor," said Dunkley, "he told her he did not intend to live with her."

"Doesn't make any difference," said Judge Harris. "This court has some pretty strong opinions on that point. While he was at war he was not master of his own actions. You may appeal the case if you wish."

The attorney was not permitted to ask any questions along this line. He then asked permission to file an amended complaint charging failure to provide.

"Didn't you receive an allowance?" asked Judge Harris of Mrs. de Vecchio.

"Yes."

"There goes your failure to provide charge," said the court. "You may have ground for divorce on a charge of cruelty."

Mrs. de Vecchio testified that when

WHOLESALE MEN NOT SATISFIED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—The wholesale distributor prevents famine in some necessities of life every season of the year and he receives for this service a profit upon which the merchants in other lines would starve to death, the committee on fellowship and correspondence told the sixteenth annual convention of the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association here today. Insurance E. Hall of Indianapolis is chairman of the committee.

The service of storing foodstuffs against famine "has won us no gratitude nor has it won the easily-earned wealth that the public ascribes to us," the report continued. "On the other hand, it has brought us an unearned share of condemnation, charges that we live and wax fat at the cost of the body politic. There is hardly a politician in the land who has not some half-brained scheme of getting rid of the middle man."

Establishment of a system of uniform packages and containers was urged by the arbitration committee. The membership committee reported that 78 new firms had been admitted into the association during 1919.

her husband returned he said he had other places where he could live and did not intend to live with her again. The case was continued to permit the filing of a new complaint.

That Mysterious Music

Have you heard it at noon, down town?

If so, you, like others, have asked:
"What is it?"
"Is it a band?"
"Is it an orchestra?"
"Is it someone singing?"
"Is it a phonograph or a megaphone?"

You, like others, have looked up and down the streets, unable to locate this great volume of music that sounds like a phonograph intensified a hundred times. And just when you've decided that's what it is, you hear an equally loud and mysterious voice saying: "That was 'Dardanella.' What would you like next?" And then you're at sea again.

If you're anywhere within five blocks of Breuner's between noon and 12:30, listen for the daily concert. Perhaps you can discover what it is.

HERE'S THE SECRET OF FACIAL BEAUTY

No Matter How Disfigured With Pimples, Blisters, Blackheads or Muddiness The Use of Stuart's Calcium Wafers Works Wonders.

You will be astonished to see the wonderful change that so often takes place in just a few days after using Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Pimples, blotches, liver spots, blackheads, muddy complexion and eruptions affect the skin because it is one of the natural outlets of the body to rid itself of impurities. If you supply it with the proper materials it will convert these skin poisons into a harmless substance to pass off instead of forming ugly accumulations in the skin. These wafers contain the best skin purifier known to science—Calcium Sulphide.

BRIDEGROOM ACQUITTED, REARRESTED

Another setback was given the romance of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barbis of Milbank, S. D., bride and bridegroom for twenty-four hours, when Oakland authorities late yesterday took the bridegroom into custody as he was leaving the United States court with his wife after having been acquitted of violating the Mann white slave act. He is charged by the Oakland police with a statutory offense.

Both the Mann white slave charge and the statutory charge were made against Barbis by E. K. Pond, agent of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. Both charges grew out of his relations with the young girl who now is his wife.

MOTHER TESTIFIES
On money supplied by the young girl's mother, Mrs. Laura Dearing, of Milbank, S. D., the man, 25 years old, and the girl, 17, left Milbank to come to Oakland.

Mrs. Dearing, who was a witness for her son-in-law, stated that it was agreed that they would be married in Oakland after Barbis had obtained employment.

Upon their arrival in Oakland the couple went to a hotel and later took an apartment. They sought to get married in this city on Thanksgiving day, but found the marriage license bureau closed. Barbis, both he and his wife testified, was unable to get a day off to get a license, and a few days later they were arrested by the Federal authorities.

STEPDAUGHTER MENTIONS
Mrs. Dearing declared that the charges against her son-in-law were made by her husband, the girl's stepfather, from whom she is separated. She accused him of stopping her from coming to California by making the charges.

In addressing the jury which acquitted Barbis yesterday Assistant United States Attorney Ben Geis scored the mother for her share in her daughter's predicament, saying: "There is every excuse for the girl for she is young and innocent. There is no excuse for Barbis, for he is older, has been married once before and has been about the world. As for the mother, what shall we think of her? The less said about her the better; let us draw the veil of charity over her."

A new shipment of wool army blankets, reclaimed, at $5 has just been received.

Quiz in Police Court 'Fixing' Charges Elicits Loud Denials

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Grand jury investigation of charges of public statements of denial from Police Judge John J. Sullivan and Peter McDonough, bail bond broker, and a denial from officials of the Bank of Italy of a part of the story told by C. Vincent Ricciardi, the principal witness.

Ricciardi had charged that in a specific case, that of Caterina Bernardino, shoemaker arrested in 1913 for attempting to kill Mrs. Maria Nanni, the case was "fixed" in one of the police courts for $1500. He also said that he had been instrumental in "fixing" the case of two Italian fishermen charged with the murder of Game Warden Richard J. Squint, and Ray J. Heacock on Sardinia Island in 1914.

SPLITTING OF FEE ALLEGED
Concerning the case, Ricciardi said: "I received $5000 from my attorney, Javarolla and Dimaggio, and split the amount with Pete McDonough, giving him $2000. A note for $500 I turned over to McDonough in part payment, and he deposited it in the Bank of Italy for collection. His endorsement is on the note."

In his denial McDonough says that Ricciardi came to him with the note and asked cash for it and that, for a fee of $2000, he made a note of $500 for Ricciardi. Ricciardi asked there to have the note cashed and when refused, departed to get an endorsement. Upon return with McDonough's endorsement the note was cashed.

SULLIVAN'S STATEMENT
Judge Sullivan's statement follows: "The case against Bernardino was dismissed by me because of insufficient evidence. The evidence, as I recall it, against Bernardino was purely circumstantial. I do not recall the circumstances

POLICEMEN WANT THEIR JOBS BACK

Following the ratification by the city council yesterday of the appointment by Mayor John L. Davis of Colonel Ralph J. Faneuf to the place on the Civil Service Board vacated through the resignation of President Ralph T. Fisher, a special meeting of the board has been called for tomorrow night.

Colonel Faneuf was sworn in to his new duties yesterday, and at the opening of tomorrow night's meeting of the board members will select a president. Commissioner John F. Chambers has been acting as president during the absence of President Fisher in Washington. The third member of the board is Ralph Beebe.

Following the election, the board will hear appeals of Patrolmen J. J. O'Connell, M. J. Hayes and Frank Merrick who were dismissed from the police department recently by Commissioner of Public Health and Social Welfare, Dr. H. H. Hynes, while the three patrolmen will be represented by former Superior Judge W. H. Donahue and former District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, while Commissioner Morse will be represented by City Attorney H. L. Hagan. An effort will also be made by the board to hear the appeal of Thomas Daggert, a member of the fire department, who was also recently dismissed by Commissioner Morse for alleged drunkenness. The appeal of foreman carpenter Harry C. Winham of the board of education, suspended several months ago on charges of alleged dishonesty, will not be heard until Tuesday.

Varied Honeymoon is Told in Divorce Suit

Three days of happiness and three months of hell, was Harry Christopher's description of the married life according to the complaint for divorce filed today by Mrs. Martha Christopher. The declaration was made when she referred to their honeymoon, the wife says, and complains that he told her his life was wrecked, that they could not get along and was sorry he married her. He once became enraged because he could not find a salt cellar in his accustomed place, the wife avers, and asks for a decree with $50 a month alimony. They were married in Oakland on November 27, 1919.

Oakland Navy Officer Takes London Bride

At a wedding that was planned to take place in England today Miss Diana Ellen Anstey of London became the bride of Clifford L. Tuttle, Oakland man who for two years has been on the staffs of Admirals Sims and Knott of the United States navy.

The ceremony, friends were advised, was to take place at the home of the bride's parents in Clapham, a London suburb. Tuttle, private secretary to Admiral Knott, is expected to be ordered home within two months and will bring his bride to Oakland.

Tuttle, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tuttle of the city, was prominent in Eastbay society before the war.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHICAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhical Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England specialists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in England, is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Epsom salt (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 2 pints of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Epsom salt used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Advertisement.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains shoot through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes the pain, usually brings quick relief.

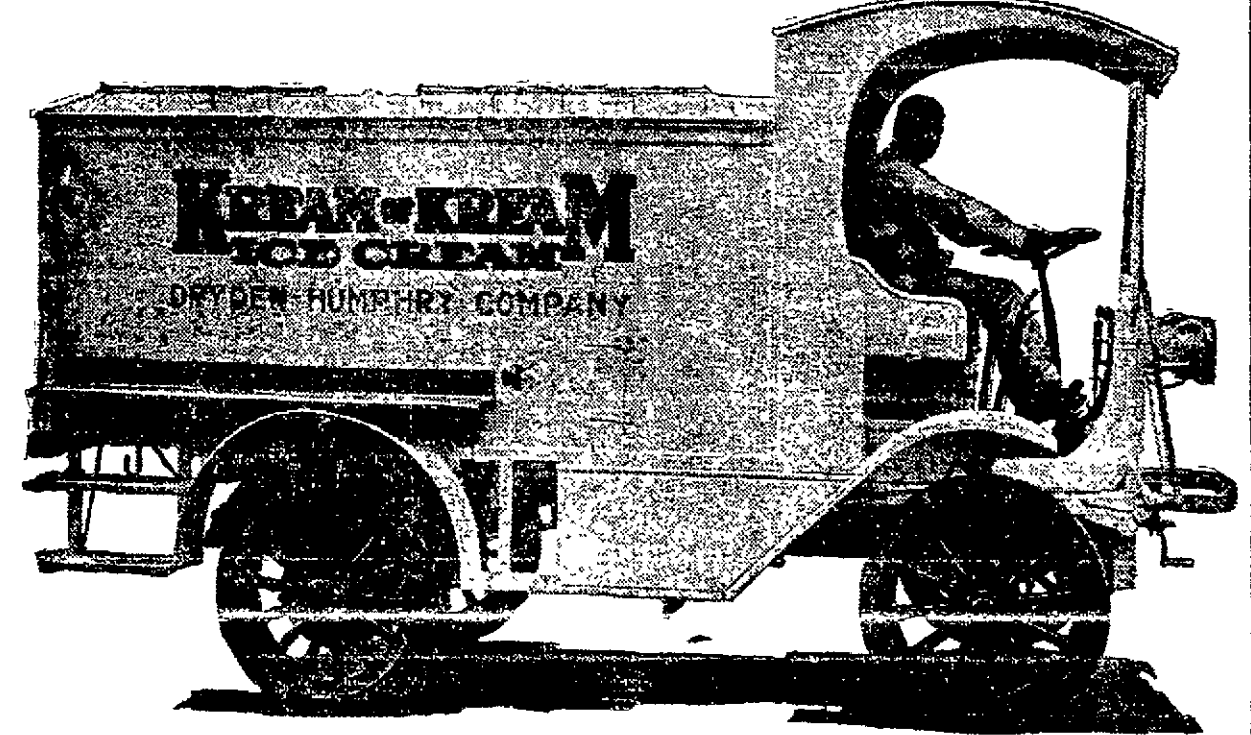

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

NEW ARREST IMMINENT IN BYRON CASE

Another arrest is likely in Oakland today in connection with the looting of the Bank of Byron, according to deputy sheriffs from Contra Costa county who are here.

B. P. Winne, Oakland mechanic, who is in jail in Martinez, continued to deny his guilt today. He was an employee at the business garage, Third and Webster streets.

According to Sheriff Veale, Winne admits having bought the acetylene tank which was left behind by the looters of the Byron bank. He explained, according to the sheriff, that he bought it for use in the garage, and that it was stolen from the garage the night of the robbery.

The sheriff says the tank is twice the size of any that would be used in the garage.

Deputy Sheriff A. D. Joslin and William Veale are in Oakland today following up further clues.

Winne appeared before Justice of the Peace Crumland at Byron yesterday and his bail was set at $5000, or double that amount in bonds.

The warrant for Winne's arrest was sworn to by Hohn Wright, whose safe deposit box was among the ninety filled.

"At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bank of Byron yesterday, decision was reached to offer a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of the persons who robbed the Bank of Byron, January 27. A reward of $250 was also offered for recovery of the robbers' loot, and it is said the Bankers' Association has offered an additional reward of $1000 for each robber caught. The Bank of Byron is a branch of the Tracy institution.

In the Byron district there is disappointment that the directors have not offered to make good the loss sustained by depositors. The bank carried no insurance, it is said.

HURRICANE KILLS
MANY IN ISLANDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Many lives were lost and great damage done to coconut plantations by a hurricane and tidal wave which visited the islands of Makatea and Moorea in the French Society Islands group, on the night of January 22, according to reports reaching here with the arrival of the steamer Tofua, in port today.

Other testimony showed that the storm, which was the worst since 1911, suffered severely, the reports said. Native and Japanese plantations were the victims.

French overseas agents are sending wireless reports to American Consul Thomas B. L. Layton, a passenger on the Tofua.

Plantiff Says Carman
Ignored Frantic Signs

Although he sent his wife a block along the track flag an oncoming street car when his automobile's engine stalled and left the machine stranded on the track, the motorman paid no attention to the signal and crashed into the stationary car. It was testified in the suit of Attorney Louis Glickman against the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railway before Judge Harry W. Tuley, in court today.

Other testimony showed that the motorman thought Mrs. Glickman was trying to board the car at a place not provided for in the rules and therefore refused to stop.

The accident happened on College avenue, between Chabot Road and Claremont avenue, October 5, 1918. The occupants of the automobile were out of it before the street car crashed into it.

Judge Tuley continued the case to permit the attorneys to submit authorities regarding which party had the last chance to avoid the accident.

STORE ROBBERIES

Investigations which have been carried on by police inspectors into the activities of John Hall, 4544 East Fourteenth street, and Andrew Andersen, the men arrested December 24 because of their alleged extensive depredations in a local department store, have revealed a series of systematic thefts perpetrated on a larger scale than was first realized by the police.

Hall, who was a floor walker at the establishment, was first arrested on a petit larceny charge, but has since been charged with burglary. After his arrest Hall's story implicated Andersen in the wholesale thefts.

Both men were on trial in the police court of Judge George Samuels this morning on a charge of burglary. They are defended by T. L. Christiansen. The trial was continued until February 19.

According to testimony of detectives, the principal cache from which merchandise was recovered was the warehouse of the Pioneer Van and Storage Company, 2011 Twenty-sixth avenue. Goods valued at hundreds of dollars were found there.

Inspectors Orbell, Keefe and Robinson. Electrical goods formed the favorite loot of the alleged thieves, according to the police inspectors.

It is the belief of the police that Hall first obtained employment at the department store for the purpose of being the "inside" man in the wholesale cache. He is said to have furnished names to Andersen of credit customers, who obtained merchandise by the use of these names.

ELEVEN JURORS ENOUGH.
Because her son is ill of influenza, Mrs. S. E. Bennett, a juror in the damage suit of Josephine and Joseph La Moure against T. D. Koplas, was excused from further service and the trial is proceeding with eleven jurors, attorneys for both sides consenting.

Old Maid in School
Is Championed by Federation

Long live the old maid school teacher.

Mrs. May L. Cheney, appointment secretary at the University of California for the last twenty years, may deplore her. But Oakland Federation for Mothers' Clubs is her strong ally.

"An old maid is not a calamity," they say. "Old maids are pretty soon institutions. It is their answer to Mrs. Cheney's charge that 'we have filled the classrooms of our State with old maid school teachers. If we believe in marriage, why should our schools place a ban on a woman who happens to wear a wedding ring?' The sooner such a rule is repealed the better it will be and the sooner we will get the type of teacher that we need."

Mrs. Cheney blames the rule barring married women from school faculties for the present shortage in teachers.

"The deficit is due to low salaries, as every educator ought to know," she says. "The Federation for Mothers' Clubs is championing Mrs. Cheney."

ONE JOB SUFFICIENT

"School teaching is a means to an end," declares Mrs. Edward Morgan Jones, president of the Parent Teacher Association, "just as it is a tidying over in other lines of work until a girl is married. There is the trouble."

"A man never undertakes two jobs," she continues. "A woman, whose husband can support her has no right to take a position, whether she is teacher or not, and occupy it to the exclusion of another woman who needs it for her bread and butter. When she has her job cut out for her at home, we have every right to the exclusion of another woman who needs it for her bread and butter. When she has her job cut out for her at home, we have every right to the exclusion of another woman who needs it for her bread and butter. When she has her job cut out for her at home, we have every right to the exclusion of another woman who needs it for her bread and butter."

BLAMES POOR SALARIES

"Women with husbands to support them, and girls with good homes have no right to take positions in the keynote of the system. The sweetest, most understanding teachers are those in the kindergarten. We must admit that many of our teachers have reached a cranky age, where they have lost the confidence of the child. The married woman who goes outside her home to assume a position is neglecting that home, if she does it without just cause."

Speech for 'Reds' in
City Hall Jails Man

"Hurrah for the Bolsheviks!" shouted a man late last night as he staggered into the Fourteenth street police station.

A large crowd immediately gathered around him. He then delivered an impromptu lecture extolling the virtues of the revolution.

Officer R. C. McDowell took the man into custody. He was booked on the police blotter as drunk, and will be held for investigation.

"Three cheers for the Reds," yelled the inebriate as he was taken into the jail elevator.

THIEF QUILTS
STOLEN CAR
UNDER FIRE

Police Sergeant James Pullman fired twelve shots at an automobile thief late last night as he stood on the running board of Fire Chief Whitehead's machine, driven by Chief Whitehead, who was pursuing the thief.

The machine belonged to Mrs. James Williams, 290 Sixteenth street. She left her car near the Orpheum theater and when she came out after the pursuit, she found the car missing. She shouted to Pullman, who was standing on the corner, and the policeman opened fire. Chief Whitehead, who was passing in his machine, heard the shots and took up the pursuit, picking up Pullman, who continued to fire until the thief, tearing capture, deserted the machine and ran. One bullet hit the car.

HUSBAND ACCUSED OF Calling Wife Menial

Mrs. Mable Colucci, who charges her husband with having foreign views and treating her like a menial, started suit for divorce today before Judge J. C. Smith against John Colucci, proprietor of the Rex Cafe, 1135 Alcatraz avenue, Berkeley.

The wife testified that her husband told her he had only married her to work in his restaurant, that she was only a menial and that he even owned her clothes. She also charged her husband with keeping a long knife or a revolver under his pillow and threatening to shoot her if she left him or sued for divorce. She asks for $25 a week alimony and division of the property. The husband denies all his wife's allegations and declares his views are not foreign but that his wife sought to prevent him from taking out citizenship papers and he has purchased Liberty Bonds and contributed to the Red Cross.

WEBB FIRES FIRST GUN IN MILK FIGHT

Charging that seventy-five per cent of the milk supply of the bay is controlled and priced through the organizations named, State Attorney General U. S. Webb has prepared for filing five suits seeking to cancel rights and franchises of various daily associations in the state.

The suits, which will be filed in the Superior Courts having jurisdiction, will be directed against: The Associated Dairymen of California, Inc.; Milk Producers Association of Central California; Northern California Milk Producers Association; Imperial Valley Milk Producers Association; and the San Joaquin Milk Producers Association. The organizations are said to be subsidiaries of the first named.

The three suits filed in San Francisco yesterday named as defendants the main association and the Central and Northern California organizations, each of which, it is charged, has "usurped corporate powers not granted to it and has perverted the corporate powers granted to it to the detriment of the public."

That they have formed a monopoly and have conspired together to increase the price of milk and milk products beyond the point justified by the cost of production and distribution is another charge in the complaint.

According to Webb the action is the first step to destroy what the State authorities hold is a milk monopoly.

Speech for 'Reds' in
City Hall Jails Man

"Hurrah for the Bolsheviks!" shouted a man late last night as he staggered into the Fourteenth street police station.

A large crowd immediately gathered around him. He then delivered an impromptu lecture extolling the virtues of the revolution.

Officer R. C. McDowell took the man into custody. He was booked on the police blotter as drunk, and will be held for investigation.

"Three cheers for the Reds," yelled the inebriate as he was taken into the jail elevator.

83.8 AVERAGE IS MADE BY DAIRIES

Compilation of the scores of dairies dealing in pasteurized milk for the past month shows an average of 83.8, according to figures supplied by City Veterinarian Dr. C. C. Wing, head of the city milk inspection staff.

The list contains the scores of seventeen dairies. The scores of dairies dealing in raw milk can be obtained, according to the announcement of Dr. Wing, from the Health Department.

The monthly scores are as follows:

Central Creamery	90.4
Oakland Cream Depot	89.4
Jersey Creamery	89.1
Jersey M. C. & B. Co.	88.8
Walnut Grove Creamery	87.8
Columbia Dairy, Jersey Farm	86.3
South Berkeley Creamery	86.2
Albany Farm	86.2
Mutual Creamery, Fernwood	86.2
Ranch, L. F. S. Dairy	79.1
Durham Farm	78.8

Golden Eagle Swiss	69.3

The Player Piano Helps
Children With Their Music

First we want it clearly understood that the Player Piano will never eliminate the music teacher—a good teacher is essential. We do claim, however, that the Player will help the pupil and the music teacher immeasurably.

Where there is a Player Piano, there is music in the home—the influence and desire of good music. Children without knowing anything about music are absorbing this influence. This certainly is a good foundation for the pupil and teacher.

The Player Piano (in good one) is capable of genuine artistic playing. Just think of the advantage of a pupil listening to (and also playing) all the intricate and wonderful compositions which few people have time and ability to master. Not only do they learn to love the compositions themselves, but in the absence of the teacher they may refresh the memory on how certain passages should be played—with what tempo and expression. A Player is assuredly a big help.

Our line of Players includes several very reliable and famous makes—in addition to being used as a Player, they can be played upon from the keyboard in the usual manner. Prices range from $695 and we gladly arrange convenient payment terms.

OAKLAND HOUSEWIVES ADOPT
Conservative Work Policy

Conservative measures were adopted this afternoon by the executive board of Oakland Housewives' League when the appointment of resolutions committee was authorized before which all matters must come before going to the floor of the league for action. This decision of the board will be offered for ratification to the members on Monday.

Realizing the power of an organization of women consumers, and the ease with which they might be approached and hurried into action detrimental to their interests, the directors have agreed that the creation of a resolution committee is merely a protection to the future of the league.

A. S. Johnson will be the speaker at the Monday meeting to be held in the council chambers of the city hall when "Department Stores" will be discussed.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 5.—The Merchants' Association of Park street is arranging a luncheon at which they will invite representatives of the Alameda Housewives' League to be their guests, within a few days to discuss mutual problems, it was announced at the meeting of the league in the Lincoln School. This afternoon a committee to confer with the city attorney in the matter of the petition of the Pacific Gas and Electric company to the Railroad Commission, asking for permission to increase rates to consumers, was appointed by Mrs. May Larkin Marston, president.

Progress in efforts to make possible the sale of milk at 13 cents a quart under a cash-and-carry system, was reported.

Action was taken on the report of the delegates sent to a joint meeting of representatives of the housewives' leagues about the bay which was held Monday in Oakland to discuss plans for state organization.

MUSIC PROGRAM FOR MASQUERADE

A musical program, to be given at intervals between the dances, is to be a feature of the prize masquerade planned by St. Leo's parish for the evening of February 12, at the Hotel Oakland. A double quartet and a number of soloists will be heard. Among those who will take part are: Miss Dehl McDonough, Mrs. J. F. Chapman, Evelyn Kelley, Mrs. J. A. Waggett, Marie Connolly, Adele Guiton, Helen Walsh, Lina Kieferdorf, Felice Nicholas, Marie Strobel, and the following soloists: William H. Smith, McDonough, Marie Strobel and Marie McDonough. Miss Josephine Ryan will be the accompanist.

A number of prominent members of the parish are to act as patrons and patronesses for the affair.

NAME OF JERRY

Jeremiah, the pet Billy goat of Joseph Gunter, 4700 Fairfax avenue, and for many years the mascot of the Gunter family, was listed among the lost and missing persons at the Central police station this morning.

According to Gunter's report Jeremiah wandered away or was stolen last night shortly after he had been turned out for a pasture in a vacant lot adjoining the Gunter yard.

The police were furnished with a complete description of Jeremiah, who is described as a large, billy goat with a patriarchal beard, and name is Jeremiah, not an answer to the name of Jerry."

REAL BLIZZARD
HITS NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A raging blizzard of wind, snow and sleet has held this city in its grip for more than twenty-four hours. The sleet, freezing as it fell, completely paralyzed street railway traffic. The heavy fall of snow was piled by the high wind into drifts and the street cleaning force was almost powerless to keep the main arteries of traffic open.

Telephone and telegraph communication was badly crippled and all trains arriving in this city from the west and from New England pointed from thirty minutes to six hours late.

The storm struck New York from the northeast with a thirty-mile wind which rapidly rose to the fury of a gale. The entire Atlantic coast to the northeast and southwest of this port was lashed by the storm, causing grave dangers to shipping.
